West Week Hits Stride

"Take a wooden nickle" will be the hew and cry in Cameron in another week as Cameron set to push promotion of Western Week July 13-18 into high gear.

And categories for the growing number of growers in "brothers of the brush" competition were announced by Chamber officials.

Cameron business houses will have wooden nickles worth 5 cents in exchange at most city businesses circulating about a week before the Western Week extravaganza boosting the Cameron Saddle Club's Horse Show July 17-18.

Chamber Manager Richard Moseley said beard growers will have opportunity for prizes in several categories including: fullest beard, reddest beard, best moustache and best goatee.

About 100 beard growers thus far are avoiding their razors as part of the pre-Western Week promotion.

Moseley noted in the Chamber's Cameron Action newspaper this week that proceeds from sales of shaving permits, "brush" permits and other promotion during Western Week activities will go for purchase of downtown Christmas decorations.

He said that 5,000 wooden nickles will be in circulation later in July to boost the Western Week idea.

Other Western Week activity includes mystery windows contest. Merchants will place unusual items in their windows so that people can view the unusual object and claim it or another item as a prize.

Other Special Events

The Chamber manager noted other surprise plans to fire the public's imagination and interest in the horse show and Western Week itself.

The horse show includes plans for a downtown parade July 17 followed by quarter-horse and gaited class shows that night and July 18.

Cameron To Host Cen-Tex Leaders At Road Opening

City and Cameron officials have planned ribbon-cutting ceremonies of city-US 77 for 7 p.m. July 14 and a barbecue for highway officials that night.

City officials have invited state highway authorities, Central Texas city leaders, and local civic leaders to the official opening of US 77 through Cameron.

Lining of the streetway will be completed prior to the ceremony, according to Mayor Bassel Wilson. Dist. Engineer C. B. Thames and a host of Texas Highway Dept. dignitaries will be on hand for the ceremony and barbecue at 7:30 p.m. following cutting of the ribbon.

The Cameron Chamber's highway and good roads committee, headed by E. A. Perrin, will be host at the barbecue for Cen-Tex highway and civic leaders.

William Pagach, Texas Jaycee Road-e-o driving champion, Cameron, will drive the first automobile over the half-mile stretch of four-lane road following cutting of the ribbon.

The US 77 road through Cameron was completed in May after 12 years of work in clearing right-of-way and getting contracts let, Wilson said.

Student Reviews Mexican Tour

Proof again of the alertness of Cameron youth is this report by a Yoe High School senior of his 3,000-mile tour of Mexico with 31 students and sponsors from the Central Texas Presbytery. Though on a church sponsored tour, young Edwin Adams reports and analyzes other basic elements of the neighboring nation to the south. Herewith, we see Mexico through a teen-ager's eyes.

—Ed

By Edwin Adams

When we first entered Mexico, our busload of teenagers and church sponsors saw only the dry lands used for cattle ranges. And it surprised us to see that there were very few fences.

Our advisors said that a lot of land is owned by rural communities and all the cattle of the villages run together.

New Rotary Prexy ....

Childress Elected

Cameron's new Rotary president George Childress, city insurance agency owner, directed discussion of the new Rotary year in a meeting Wednesday.

Childress outlined committee appointments and drew discussion from the civic club on ideas for the 1959-60 Rotary year in Cameron.

George Childress

He succeeded John C. Andres, who became vice-president of Cameron Rotary.

Other new officers are: Bill McIntosh, treasurer, and Burts Kennedy, secretary.

Elected to the club board of directors were Henry Siebman, Charlie Burke, Bill Burns, Dr. C. G. Swift and Kennedy. Childress and Andres also serve on the board.

Childress said he hoped to see Cameron Rotarians undertake a program of local interest to match the programs of scholarships and fellowships sponsored by International Rotary.

He said he was interested in seeing Cameron Rotarians actively boosting some projects in Cameron that would promote the ideals of Rotary on a local basis.

The Cameron Rotary Club has added several new members to its roster in the past six months. And club members commended Andres on "a job well done during his tenure as president."

Here's How Dial Gets 'OX' Prefix

There's a group of highly-trained specialists at the telephone company who wouldn't have a chance in a sixth grade spelling bee if they had to use their working alphabet.

The reason: Their alphabet consists of only 24 letters, and the letters "Q" and "Z" are outcasts.

These are the men who select the exchange name prefixes for telephone numbers such as the "OXford" numbers to be used in Cameron after the conversation to dial operation here this fall.

No Chance Selection

The names just didn't happen, according to C. L. Carson, local manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Nor were they selected "out of the blue."

One reason is that the new numbering system ties in closely with a nationwide plan for long distance dialing by operators, and eventually by Cameron customers themselves.

So, the men who select names have had to make extensive studies all over the nation to find names that would be easily spelled, remembered and understood by both long distance operators and customers. They came up with a basic list of about 300 names to fit these requirements for the United States and Canada.

"Q" and "Z" Skipped
There's nothing personal in the shunning of "Q" and "Z." It's just that the telephone company doesn't believe its customers or its long distance operators would get along too well with such exchange names as "Zubeneschamali" or "QUagga."

The "Q" and "Z" usage would also limit the number of names that could be derived from them. There could be only one exchange name for "Z," for example, since it must be followed by "U."

The letters selected must also be used for second letters in other exchange names in order to get the maximum number of combinations. In fact, you won't even find these two letters on the dial of most newer telephones.

Cameron's OXford Stands

So that's how it works. Names are selected to fit a number of exacting requirements. "OXford" is one of the central office names that stood the test.

And here's how Cameron's new numbers fit into the nationwide numbering scheme. Under this system the United States and Canada have been divided into a number of "calling areas." Each area is assigned an "area calling code number." Cameron in one of five such areas in Texas, and its calling code is the three-number code 8-1-7.

According to Carson, the objective is for all dial cities of both the Bell System and independent companies to have two letters and five numerals in all telephone numbers.

3rd Trail Ride To Start Here For 200 Riders

WACO—The third annual Heart O'Texas Trail Ride, expected to attract more than 200 riders, again will originate in Cameron and end with a big downtown parade in Waco on October 6.

Jess Radle of Waco again will be "trail boss."

Dr. Lyle McDermott and Charles McDermott, Cameron, are among men appointed by Radle to help work out details for the 1959 trail ride. The McDermotts are members of the Cameron Saddle Club.

Riders will gather in Cameron the night of October 3 and will leave there at daylight on October 4. They will spend Sunday night in Lott and will arrive in Waco in time for a huge barbecue and entertainment party at Jess Radle's farm on South Third Street October 5.

Radle has appointed Homer Casey assistant trail boss, L. C. (Doc) Ray secretary, Johnny Hunt public relations chairman and Jim Radle head cook.

Radle said Gatesville, Meridian, and Hillsboro were considered as starting points for this year's trail ride, then it was decided to keep Cameron as the starting point at least for another year or two.

"The Cameron folks have been wonderful hosts and the plan of spending the first night at Lott also works out well," said Radle.

Worshipful Master

John Z. Krall, was installed as worshipful master of San Andres Masonic Lodge No. 170 Thursday night at Cameron Lodge Hall.

Past master J. E. Crook was installing master and Jess Brock was installing marshal.

Other new officers installed were: Robert C. Nelson, senior warden; Robert A. Swanzy, junior warden; William H. Lester, senior deacon; R. P. ### Going To Irving ....

Webster Resigns

Murphy Webster, popular assistant YHS football coach and head track mentor, has notified school officials that he will resign to accept a similar position at Irving High School.

Supt. Wiley Loughmiller told The Herald Tuesday that Webster had called him, tendering his unofficial resignation before returning to Cameron to put in a written request.

Loughmiller quoted Webster as saying his position would be first assistant coach at Irving High School at "an appreciable increase in pay and opportunity." He will also teach algebra in Irving High School.

In Corpus Christi

Webster is in Corpus Christi for the summer attending summer school and working parttime. He had left Cameron with plans to return in the fall, according to a Herald interview with Webster.

"The Cameron school system has lost an excellent coach and competent teacher," Loughmiller said. "But we will wish him well in his future career."

Webster joins former YHS Head coach Leo Jackson who now heads the Irving High School athletic department. Another former Cameron school man, W. T. Hanes, now superintendent at Irving, took the reins of that school system three years ago.

Coaching Shortage

The former Little All-American's move to Irving leaves Cameron head coach Jim Speer with a big job of coach recruiting. Earlier this month Bill Kruger, basketball coach, had accepted a post as coach in San Marcos High School and C-team coach Billy Michalka has taken a teaching position in South Texas.

Webster and Speer came to Yoe High School in the fall of 1956 when Jackson was head coach.

Then Speer was named head coach early in 1958 when Jackson moved to the Irving post.

July Dollar Day Due Here Friday

Dollar Day is due in Cameron Friday, citing the monthly city-wide shopper's savings program.

Many Cameron stores are offering an array of goods at sale prices prior to the city-wide holiday Saturday, July 4, when downtown stores, business offices, banks and government offices will be closed.

The Cameron Chamber is boosting the regular monthly promotion for savings to thousands of Milam Countians.

Chamber officials are urging shoppers consideration of the savings available in mid-county Cameron. They invite comparison of prices on comparable merchandise anywhere in Central Texas.

2 Collisions Cause

$900 Auto Damage

Two collisions Friday caused about $900 vehicle damage, but no injuries on Cameron streets.

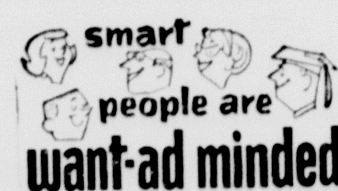

Vehicles driven by John J. Bolden, 57, Temple, and Annie Maye Boyd, Housing Project, Cameron, collided 3:45 a.m. Friday on SH 36 near the Cameron Machine Shop.

Bolden's pickup was estimated to have been damaged for a loss of $100 while Miss Boyd's car was damaged at an estimated loss of $900, Police Chester Simons said. She received a ticket for following too close.

A second accident 11:30 a.m. Friday caused $300 damage to vehicles driven by Sam S. Brewer, Cameron and Elbert Earl Pool, 83, Rt. 4.

Damage to the Brewer car was set at $200 and to Pool's 1941 pickup at $100, Simons noted. Pool was ticketed for failure to yield right-of-way.

Grading Work Continues On E. Tenth St.

Construction work continued to capture the interest of Camerontites this week as new grading was progressing on E. 10th St. and workmen were dismantling the old water tower near the Courthouse square.

People downtown watched in awe as workmen climbed about the top of the 200-foot tower with apparent abandon. They began early this week the task of pulling the steel, cylindrical tower down.

The move followed city action to dismantle the old water tower turned of no further use to Cameron after about 60 years of service.

Wrecking Unit

Contractors were to bring in a wrecking rig to bring down part of the tower and pulverize the cement based to ground level, officials said.

Meanwhile, workmen were re-grading 10th Street prior to final surfacing and curb construction.

Public Works Supt. E. B. Earle asked that citizens try to keep off the 10th Street thoroughfare while grading work is underway. He said provisions for use of the street by residents living along there have been made.

Hughes Builds

And in other construction news, Stanley Hughes, Cameron contractor, was completing work on new offices and display room for his paint and decorating shop on N. Fannin.

Officials of the Milam County Soil Conservation Service have moved offices to the new building. Hughes' building is another new structure built during the past several months in Cameron.

$82,670 Contract

Let For FM 485

A contract for construction of subgrade, reconditioned base and surfacing on FM Rd. 485 has been awarded in Austin, according to C. B. Thames, district engineer, Bryan.

The R. W. McKinney Construction Co., Nacogdoches, submitted a low bid of $82,670.60 on the project which runs from Splawn to Yarradillon, a distance of 6.4 miles.

Resident Engineer Carol D. Zeigler, Hearne, will be in charge of state highway department project during 75 working days allowed for project completion.

Bank Ups Capital By Quarter Million

Officials of the Citizens National Bank, Cameron, have announced the increase of the bank's capital structure to one million dollars, marking the institution's 59th anniversary Wednesday.

Citizens National Bank takes its place among only 104 Texas banks having a net worth of one million dollars. It is also the first time in the history of Milam County that any financial institution has attained a capital structure of this size, officials said.

Bank President Oxsheer Smith said the move "is an expression of the confidence of shareholders and officers of the bank in the future of Milam County and Cameron."

The bank's former capital structure was $750,000 before the quarter-million dollar capital increase.

Founded in 1900 by H. F. Smith, the Citizens National Bank has gained state-wide recognition in banking circles. The bank started a savings department in 1927 which paid only $135.76 at the first pay period compared to $27,233.88 in savings interest during the period ending June 15.

"It is only through the growth of our customers that the bank can grow," Smith said, "and it will always be the policy of the bank to back, support and encourage the growth and best interest of our customers and depositors."

Yeager Remains Red Cross Head

J. R. Yeager was re-elected chairman of the Milam County Red Cross chapter as other officers were elected and a $6,591 budget adopted at the annual meeting Thursday night.
W. H. Cooke was re-elected vice chairman and J. D. Peebles of Milano accepted another term as treasurer. Miss Betty Jo Lanford will continue as Home Service Officer.
Peebles made a report on expenditures for the past year. He pointed out that of all Red Cross money collected in Milam County on 30.10 per cent goes to national headquarters while 69.90 per cent remains in the county.
Yeager said that one of the heaviest expenses of the Red Cross chapter is its participation in the Blood Bank program that makes free blood available at hospitals for Milam county residents when it is needed. "It is an expensive program but one which benefits the people perhaps more than any other," he said.
Milam county's pro rata share of expense for the blood program the coming year has been set at $1900 on a basis of 10 cents per capita. Yeager explained that this is a reduction from the 11 1/2 cents per capita $2185 paid the past year.

Mrs. Ed Sexton explained the work of the staff aide program recently organized and also of the Grey Ladies Program.
Yeager again pointed to the fact that through the Red Cross blood program and Milam County's participation, blood may be secured by any Milam county resident, not only in hospitals of Milam county but at any hospital in the state.
Explaining the Home Service program, Yeager said the Red Cross is the only official contact between families and service men and when it is necessary for a service man to come home, either from a base in the United States or from a foreign country, the only way contact may be made is through the Red Cross. This work is done by Miss Lanford, Home Service Officer.
The chairman also said that Milam county needs a Disaster program and that the Red Cross stands ready to help in this operation. "A complete program should be worked out for the county with a chairman in every town and community to work with Civil Defense in case of a natural disaster such as a tornado or in case of an atomic explosion in the area," Yeager said.

Be An Expert Trick Caster

By Vern Sanford

An expert trick caster is William S. "Bill" Carter of Dallas.

Every fisherman aspires to become an expert at casting. But not for the same reason Bill did. Most of us want to master the art in order to place a tempting lure right in the exact spot where we think the fish are located.

But not Bill Carter.

Actually, although he is an expert caster, Bill Carter doesn't rate himself even as an average fisherman. In fact, he goes fishing very little.

No siree, Bill Carter wanted to become an expert with the casting rod for an entirely different reason. Bill's one and only goal was not to take fish but to catch the eyes of the guys who buy fishing equipment. You see, Bill is a tackle salesman.

So Bill learned to cast, and to cast expertly. Now he gets the undivided attention of everyone when he takes rod and reel in hand.

Bill learned to cast from every conceivable position. He learned to cast with the reel in his shirt pocket, detached from the rod. He learned to cast with the lure in his hand, on the ground, even between his teeth.

Whether it is a between the legs cast, or his bow and arrow cast, or any of his wide repertoire, all are accurate casts.

Naturally Bill uses a rubber casting plug, without hooks, for his trick casts, for safety reasons. But his bill's eye accuracy is amazing.

At 20 paces Bill can wind the lure around a person's extended arm—at the elbow, at the wrist, or about the finger, with the ease that comes only from a marksman.

He can flip a cigarette out of a "target's" mouth, at 20 paces, without the subject realizing he's been "robbed."

We've been told that Bill can pop the ashes off a cigarette without disturbing the tag itself. That, too, at 20 paces, mind you.

So proficient has he become, and so frequently is he called upon for demonstrations, that Bill now has devised a black light stunt whereby some of his casting tricks are done with the use of fluorescent and gantron material.

A truly great guy with the casting rod and reel is Bill Carter.

Where did he learn the techniques? When we asked Bill Carter about that he surprised us again. He said, "Indoors, while my time away waiting for prospective customers to come to my hotel room to see my display of fishing equipment."

Bill, who is approaching the half-century mark, is now and has been for 20 years, a tackle representative. Not content to sit idly by in a big sample room, waiting for buyers to come view his merchandise Bill assembled a rod, reel and practice plug and began to practice casting between the rows of his display tables. Then he tried casting between doorways, and down hallways.

It wasn't long before he had dead-eye accuracy.

Then for variety, he tried different methods of casting. First thing he knew he was demonstrating his products in the aisles of the stores he called on. That's when he began to get the undivided attention of his customers and the store's customers.

It is not unusual for Bill to give as many as 50 trick casting demonstrations a year before service clubs, meetings of outdoorsmen, boy scouts, 4-H and FFA clubs. In fact, his first public demonstration was entertaining veterans in a hospital.

Bill makes no charge for his trick casting demonstrations. "It's good for my business," says Bill, "and besides I love to do it."

Right now the gear that Bill "talks with" and about, is Zebco's new, black and white balanced rod built especially for Zebco's Model 33 black and white reel.

Bill says the dual unit makes a beginning fisherman look like a pro. He's stretching his "line" there of course, but we must admit the combination does wonders for any fisherman.

Bill has been with Zebco for 7 years; Glenn L. Evans, Inc., for 20 years and the Newton Line Co. for 20 years. Other connections are with the H. A. Whittemore Co. Tackle Industries, and the Star-Dri Boat Co.

He makes all sports shows in his sales area, which includes six states: Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas. In fact, it was at the Dallas News' Sports Show, several years ago, when Bill Carter gave yours truly his first casting demonstration.

Lest one gets the idea that Bill never goes fishing, he reminds us that he is a member of the Texas Game Fishing Club and journeys to Canada with the club on its annual pilgrimage, and to Acapulco every year for the Sail Fishing Tournament.

Next to fishing, Bill's love is golf. But even then his mind is on trick casting, for one of his favorite stunts is a trick cast made with a golf club. But he does them with other items, too—such as a landing net, a paddle or a tennis racket.

Although Bill was born in Monticello, Ark., he has lived in Dallas since he was 13 years of age. His parents (native Texans) moved back to Texas from Arkansas when Bill was only four. They first lived in Austin where his father, Lee Carter, once played short-stop for the Austin team in the Texas League. It was in Austin where Bill's initial interest in sports developed. His dad, by then was employed by Caswell Smith Jewelry Store now known as C & S Sporting Goods.

Bill's schooling ended upon his graduation from Sunset High School in Dallas, where he lettered in football (quarterback) baseball (shortstop) and golf.

His first job, naturally, was in a sporting goods store in Dallas. It was a part time holiday job running the elevator for Cullen Boren where his father worked for many years.

Mr. Tax-payer:

Which of these pipes will your city use?

Texas-made Lone Star cast iron pressure pipe will last over a hundred years!

The use of cheap substitutes, such as foreign-made cement-asbestos pipe, is wasteful and means probable replacement in a very few years. (This pipe was taken from a Texas city's water system. Photo is unretouched.)

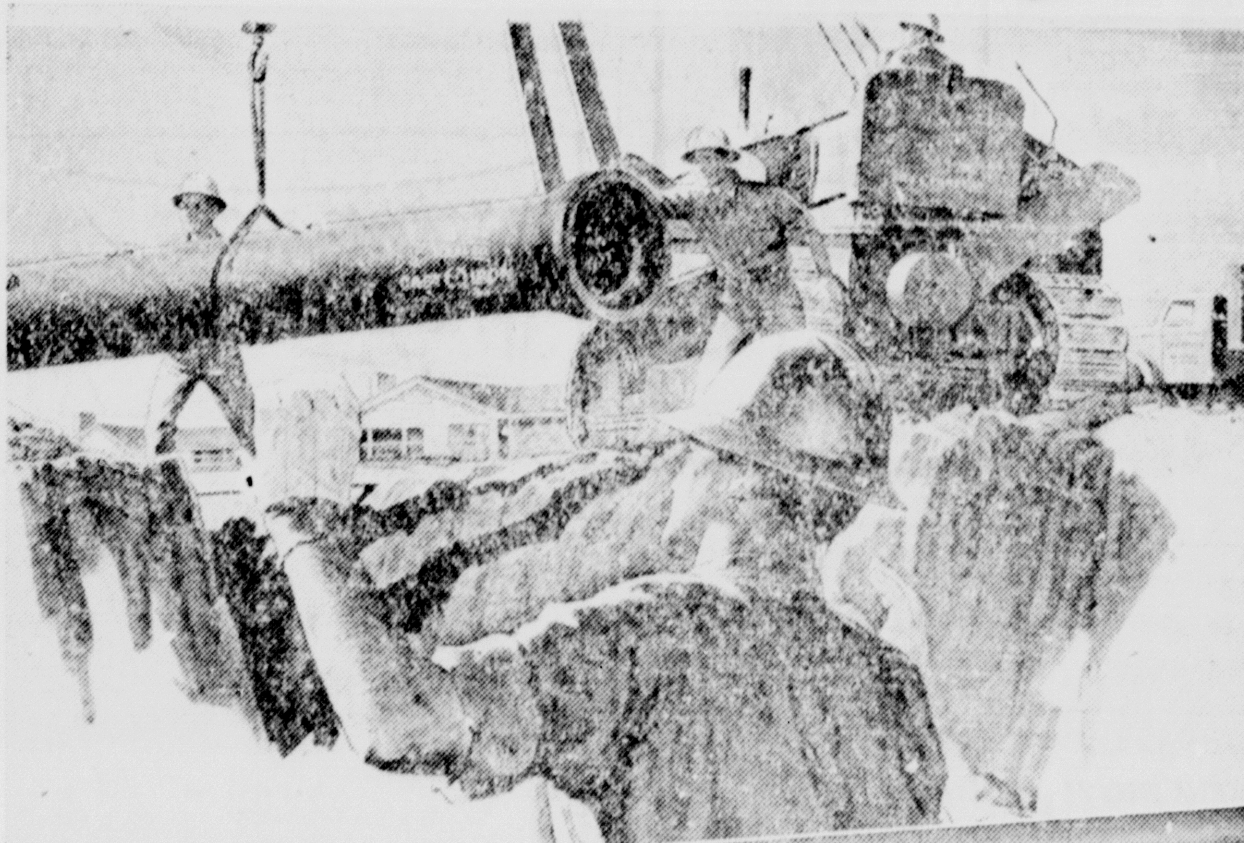

Officials of most Texas municipalities know that when they buy and install cast iron pipe they are helping to support the American economy and the high standard of living we all enjoy. They are buying products made in America for use by Americans. They are not fooled by the slightly lower initial cost of foreign goods because they realize that this "paper savings" will be more than offset by the cost of excessive maintenance.

Domestic cast iron pressure pipe is time-honored, centuries-proved, and is backed by strong, resourceful American companies that will be in business for years on end to guarantee their product.

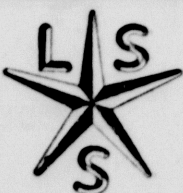

Really, who backs foreign-made pipe? Who answers for it when it fails? To whom will the few ill-advised pipe-buyers look for the answers to these questions when trouble develops? Were they penny wise and pound foolish?

Take a look at some of these important factors back of the initial price tag, then pick up the telephone and call the first city official you think of and tell him you appreciate his good judgment in buying American-made cast iron pipe with your tax dollars. If he has been buying Lone Star pipe, tell him that we, too, appreciate the business!

Cast iron pipe, such as Lone Star's dependable pressure pipe, will last for over a hundred years. It saves millions in tax dollars by eliminating repeated repairs that are inherent in cheap, foreign-made substitutes. Lone Star pipe bears the "quality check" of the Cast Iron Pipe Research Association and the approval of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

Holidays Increase Public's Danger In Highway Travel

AUSTIN—"Don't gamble on your holiday week end—the cars may be stacked against you."

This play on words were made today by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, in an effort to focus the motoring public's attention on increased dangers of highway travel during the Fourth of July week end.

Musick pointed out that since the Fourth falls on a Saturday this year, many Texans will receive a holiday on Friday or Monday. This will give families a chance to take short vacation trips.

"Week end travel is normally dangerous enough," he said, "but when you couple it with a holiday it literally becomes murderous."

For those who do plan to make a trip, Musick had these words of safety advice: "There is a common saying which states that 'Accident is just another word until one happens to YOU! Any motorist will do well to remember this slogan before he gets behind the steering wheel. He should remember, too, that the most tragic accident is not necessarily the one in which HE might be killed. If there is any doubt about this, ask the person who has been in an accident in which others were killed or one in which he lost his eyesight or was, perhaps, permanently crippled."

"There are many people who relive an accident everyday of their life, through mental anguish and physical suffering."

The safety expert emphasized that travelers should not undertake journeys of a greater distance than can be driven at a leisurely pace, with allowance for heavy traffic and other delays.

"Courtesy and commonsense are still the best traffic accident preventatives," he said.

Q: "When I go out with a boy, is it all right to ask him to carry my make-up and things in his pocket?"

A: If it's your first date, he'll be more impressed if you use a handbag.

After you know him better, he'll probably be glad to carry a few things in his pockets. Just don't overdo it and load him down with a lot of unnecessary extras.

When he's carrying your equipment, limit it to the smallest compact you can find, a little pocket comb, a handkerchief and tiny change purse, that would contain a lipstick and your mad money.

Public Can Stop

Obscene Mail Racket

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield declared today the American public can halt the nation's half-billion-dollar a year traffic in mail order obscenity.

Appealing for public support in his intensified war on "barons of obscenity who are brazenly violating our homes and soliciting our children," the Postmaster General said, "the people themselves hold the final answer because they can put these filth merchants out of business."

Mr. Summerfield suggested these steps if obscene mail, or advertisements soliciting its sale, appears unordered in your home mail box:

1. Save all materials received, including the envelopes and all enclosures.

2. Report the matter immediately to your local Post master, and turn the materials over to him. (You may mail in your complaint and evidence if you wish.)

3. Stand ready to sign a formal complaint and testify if criminal action should be necessary.

Mr. Summerfield said public cooperation at this time is particularly important because the Federal Government is armed with new law which makes it possible to prosecute mail order filth dealers in local area courts.

Formerly, they could be prosecuted only at the point of origin of this material — usually a few big cities where obscene mail dealers have taken sanctuary behind legal technicalities and liberal court interpretations of what is obscene.

Now, under the new law, distributors of obscenity can be prosecuted in the communities where the material is received and where the damage is done, Mr. Summerfield explained.

"I am making this special appeal now," Mr. Summerfield concluded, "because I believe that increasing public awareness of the problem, as well as the new laws and growing cooperation by newspapers and other public media in publicizing the problem have been given us an unparalleled opportunity now to eradicate this social and moral blight upon the nation."

A delectable combination of vanilla pudding and crushed pineapple is teamed with a crisp graham cracker crust for a really different dessert. Garnished with pineapple tidbits and a sprig of mint, they're a gay and toothsome dessert choice.

Pineapple Dainties

1 cup packaged graham cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup butter, melted

1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling
1 1/4 cups water
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup drained canned crushed pineapple

Combine crumbs and sugar. Add melted butter and mix well. Press 2/3 of crumb mixture firmly on bottom of 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 5 minutes; cool. Reserve remaining crumb mixture for topping.

Combine pudding mix, water, and pineapple juice in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat, until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat and add pineapple. Editorial Interest . . .

Cameron's storefront modernization is attracting attention throughout Central Texas.

Editorial writers in three area newspapers have directed their readers attention to the financing and building plan and city-wide effort for business modernization.

If Cameron were interested only in publicity, that object would already be achieved. But further and more important than that, this city has renewed its leadership status in the eyes of sister cities across the Cen-tex region.

Value of this position cannot be measured in short time. It remains the task of time to allow regional influence boosted by such spirited civic drives, to bring industrial interest into Milam County's seat.

While this program is not merely for sake of publicity, the enthusiastic endorsements of Cameron's plan by area press points up modernization's importance in any Cen-tex city.

The Cultural Side . . .

With Cameron's sights set on remodeling the business community and general improvements abundant in residential and street ways, we pause to consider possibilities on the cultural side.

This city once had one of the earliest educational institutions in Central Texas, the venerable Milam Institute. It centered the education needs of early Cameron and Milam County for many useful years. The structure was razed a few years ago.

When we consider Cameron's central location in Milam and other agri-industrial counties nearby, it would be worth considering the possibilities of a junior college here.

Seats of learning are generally found where the stability of population and economy is known and interest in the educational development of area youngsters beyond high school is keen. We think Cameron presents these qualifications.

Such an institution could serve the specific needs of Cen-tex youth now finding college training prohibitive by cost rather than native endowment. Our major universities by necessity take interest in a student's ability to produce without concern for personal guidance for the individual. A small, sound junior college could prep many area youth for higher education without fear of the impersonal requirements of the major university.

Too, it would provide a cultural center for some 50,000-60,000 Cen-Texans whose total someday will swell into vaster numbers. Its immediate scope could provide Milam County with library facilities and meeting places for the youth of the area.

It is an idea to be considered, even in the day when bigness dominates the field of education. It is a possibility, when students' names rather than numbers should be remembered.

Doubts Wisdom of Suing Government
Men For Work They Didn't Perform

Dear editor:

I'm not opposed to new ideas, as long as they're sound, and you and I both know by sound I mean any idea that's convenient for you and me to live with, but when a new idea is hatched up by some smart aleck that threatens the very way of our existence, it's time to strike back.

I read in a newspaper yesterday afternoon which blew off my tractor seat while I went to the house for a drink of water—the paper was left there to keep the sun off the seat while I was gone and since by then the seat was too hot to use and no chance of a cloud coming by to change it, I took it to a shade tree and read—at any rate, to get on with this sentence, I read where the Federal government has sued an employee for $4,000 in wages he'd gotten but didn't work for. According to the trial testimony, the employee spent half his time loafing in a nearby club, and the government fired him and sued him for half his wages for the past year.

At first glance, this might seem like a sound idea. A man's loafing on the job, make him pay back part of his wages. A Legislature takes six months to pass a tax bill when it could have been done in three, sue the members for half their pay.

But there are other angles to it. For example, take a Legislature. If it takes it six months to pass a tax bill when it could have been done in three, it's true the government loses three months of taxes, but on the other hand, you've got to remember, the tax payers gain three months. This is worth thinking about.

And just because a government worker is working is no sign the people are better off than if he was loafing. A lot of people for example object when a bunch of Congressmen go off on a trip to Europe, but I've sometimes felt it was cheaper in the long run to keep some Congressmen in Europe than Washington.

It's not how long a session of the Legislature takes that worries me, it's how much it takes, when the tax bills are written.

You start suing people for not working and I know one farmer and occasionally some editors who'll be looking for the best defense lawyers they can find.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Capitol Report

More Than Taxes
Is Being Written

By Vern Sanford

Austin — Much more than just taxes is being written now at the State Capitol.

Political careers are being shaped—or broken. Climate is being determined for business development—or freeze. Cost of living for every Texan is involved.

That's what the edginess, temperament, fussing and name-calling is all about right now.

Seldom, if ever before, have lawmakers been so sensitive to criticism — from governor, from press, from public.

For the first time in years, the House met on a Saturday (June 20) to work on the long overdue tax bill. Knuckling down had come reluctantly — but surely — after governor and press had chided lawmakers for long Thursday-to-Monday recesses during the short 30-day special sessions. Lawmakers fussed back earlier in that week — but they stayed late.

For the most part, the fussing was all bark and little bite. House members who threatened to evict Capitol news reporters from their Capitol quarters and House floor press table in reprisal weren't taken seriously. Reporting of legislative affairs is fundamental to the democratic processes — and no one realizes it better than do lawmakers.

In brief: pressures mounted a safety valve blew — and work was resumed in earnest.

New Tax Proposal

A 2 per cent "luxury tax" on items costing more than $50 is the principal new feature of a House committee-approved revenue bill.

Tax committee voted 12-4 to send the bill by Rep. Frates Seel-igson of San Antonio to the House floor.

Like several previous bills, it was an attempt to compromise the conflicts between the "sales tax-ers" and "business tax-ers". It would raise an estimated $170,000,000 for the biennium.

About $35,000,000 would come from the luxury sales tax. About $6,100,000 would come from a one per cent severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, and about $13,000,000 from increased franchise taxes on corporations.

Rest would come from increased levies on gross receipts of utilities and sales of automobiles, tobacco, wine and liquor.

In the showdown on taxes last session, the House refused to approve a bill heavy on sales taxes. Some committee members voted against this bill on grounds that a 2 per cent sales tax, even though it was only on $50 or more items, would be ruinously unpopular.

A majority of the Senate, however, has shown definite disapproval of loading too much of the new burden on business. They feel heavy business taxes would shut out industry and cut off the source of new prosperity.

Spending Bills Re-Passed
Both houses re-passed the appropriation bills that went through the first special session.

They went to same conference committee that worked before to adjust differences. House bill was some $20,000,000 higher.

Conference committee reportedly did most of the routine work on the bills and set them aside until a tax bill could be passed to make spending possibilities more definite.

Still Feuding

Abandoned property bill, which provoked some of the most heated legislative debate this year, is having its third round.

Rep. James Bates of Edinburg, sponsor, told the House tax committee the bill wouldn't change the escheat laws that have been on the statute books for years. He declared it would make the old law more workable.

Bates' bill, as introduced this session, would require banks and others holding money or property unclaimed for seven years, to report it to the state within 60 days after passage of the bill.

It also would give state agencies authority to examine the books and records of businesses to see if they are holding such property. Bankers labeled it a "free hunting license into all bank accounts" and "unconstitutional search and seizure."

Bill was sent to subcommittee.

Colonists Write Rule By Law

Fundamental rights denied the Colonists by King George III in the mid-1700's precipitated the writing of the Declaration of Independence and its approval in 1776. An analysis of these denials and the acts of state which created the U. S. Constitution is most fitting on the eve of July 4, 1959. This article complied by the State Bar of Texas, explains the basis for law today. Ed

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 183 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain changed him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

Numerous Injustices

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: ... For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; for transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; ... For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; ... For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

Checks and Balances

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Fireworks For Independence

John Adams Founds Fourth

Who put the fireworks in the Fourth of July?

Much of the credit goes to John Adams, according to The World Book Encyclopedia. The Founding Father declared that Independence Day "ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward for evermore."

So from that time forward, the birthday of the U. S. has been marked by brilliant explosions of color and noise ... and the deaths and accidents invariably accompany them.

Americans however, got the idea for fire works from Europeans, who got the idea from the Arabs, who merely copied the Chinese.

Flying Fire Arrows
In 1232 A. D., when a Chinese city was besieged by Mongols, the defenders cooked up a batch of saltpeter, sulfur and charcoal and frightened their attackers with "arrows of flying fire."

Arabs were quick to copy these weapons, which probably were rockets. The Crusaders brought them back to Europe, where the Italians discovered that they made fancy exhibitions as well as formidable weapons.

By the time fireworks spread to England and France, figures and structures of wood and plaster had been added.

In 1520, when Henry VIII met Francis I on the Field of the Cloth of Gold in northern France, the historic moment was celebrated by the appearance of a huge dragon that thundered across the sky breathing fire.

By the 1600's fireworks had developed into such an art that two schools of thought had arisen to argue over methods of display.

Fireworks Superstructure
The Southern school, centered in Italy, concentrated on building elaborate structures such as castles and temples, from which the fireworks were exploded. The technique of setting off the fireworks was shrouded in mystery.

The Northern school, influenced by the Protestant movement in Germany, thought the Italian procedure smacked of popery. The Northerners exhibited their fireworks before the show, for all to admire, and then made them the important part of the display.

While the two schools turned over their firecrackers, fireworks crossed the Atlantic and became an American institution.

Milam Grain Co. Has Capacity Of 375,000 Pounds Per Hour

Milam Grain Co., 201 Cedar St., has recently opened for the 1959 maize season.

Manager C. O. Angell says that Milam Grain Co., now entering its third year of operation has an unloading capacity of 375,000 pounds an hour.

"This means that there is much quicker unloading when farmers bring in their grain for storage," Angell says.

The increased size is possible through enlargement of unloading facilities used in 1957 from 75,000 pounds per hour capacity to 150, 000 pounds per hour, he points out.

375,000 Pounds An Hour
Combined unloading facilities of the Milam Grain Co. is able to handle 375,000 pounds an hour compared to 75,000 pounds an hour in 1957.

Additional storage space also is available after expansion work in the storage buildings to hold 200 cars of maize.

"We have additional storage facilities elsewhere when the maize harvest starts," the Milam Grain Company manager notes.

"We believe these facilities at Milam Grain Co., make our operation the best storage market in the area," he continues.

Officers of Milam Grain Co. are Perry Holder, president; Angell, vice president; Robert M. Clark, secretary-treasurer; and H. L. Yager, member of the board of directors along with the other officers.

Old Batte Mill
The Milam Grain Co. buildings were once the old Batte Oil Mill which was re-opened for grain storage in 1957.

County Agent Reports:

Science In Agriculture

By J. D. Moore
County Agent

The use of radioisotopes by Texas Agriculture Experiment Station workers is providing a Nuclear Age answer to an old problem in agriculture — what happens to a chemical after it is applied and enters a plant.

“By the use of radioisotopes incorporated into the structure of the chemicals and instruments such as the Geiger counter we can locate a chemical of fragments of it after it has been applied to the plant,” says Dr. C. S. Miller of the Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology.

At present Dr. Miller, Dr. Wayne Hall and other staff members of the department are concerned with residue studies on plants, primarily cotton, to determine how much of the residue of chemicals remains in the seed, which ultimately go into food or feed products.

Also by the use of radioactive material it is possible to determine what happens to the chemicals within the plant, stored in certain parts of the plant, or used in the life process of the plant.

A nuclear reactor is to be constructed at Texas A&M College. Among its products will be isotopes for an expansion of an Inner Look into plants.

Commercial laboratories will determine the poisonous effects of chemicals in feeding experiments to small animals. Scientists in plant physiology and pathology can apply the chemicals to plants and determine the amount of residue in the plant parts which can be used for food or feed. Then the Pure Food and Drug Administration will determine if each chemical is safe to apply to plants.

The future of use of radioactive material in plant studies appears unlimited, Dr. Miller concluded. We will be able to study many of the 102 elements to determine how each is used within a plant, including uptake of fertilizers by plants, and trace elements and their bearing on plant life.

A&M Poultry Conference

The 1959 Poultry Conference will be held July 8-9 in the Memorial Student Center at Texas A&M College.

This conference is designed to be of special interest to hatcherymen, breeders, hatchery and feed servicemen, related poultry industry personnel, and commercial producers of eggs and broilers. The emphasis of the program will be on the breeding, health, feeding and management factors that give maximum returns from egg and meat production.

Cool Your Market Eggs

Interested in keeping the quality of your eggs high? Then, cool them as soon as possible after they are laid. With prices as low as they are now, quality becomes an even greater factor in making a profit.

In hot weather, quality breakdown takes place at a very rapid rate, and must be checked quickly or Grade A eggs will be Grade B or even Grade C eggs in a short time.

Research has shown that it takes from 16 to 18 days for eggs to reach the consumer after they are laid. Quality break-down is going on all this time, and buyers take this fact into consideration when buying eggs. Consequently, uncooled eggs bring a lower price because they will not maintain their quality as long as will cooled eggs. Take care of your laying hens, egg prices will get better.

Big Dividends

Everyone is looking for investments that pay big dividends. “Complete farm records are about the best investment a farmer can make.” Records need not be complicated. A simple record, if it is complete, will save you money and time.

Good records can eliminate a lot of headaches at income tax time, and are the best background for farm planning and operation analysis a farmer or rancher can get.

Performance Testing

Performance testing of beef cattle is the best yardstick a new or old cattleman has to select beef animals on actual value, according to records compiled by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

With cow prices high, we know of no better time to cull the cow herd and replace them with more profitable animals.

PROPER VENTILATION insures SUMMER POULTRY PROFITS

Poultry house temperatures over 80° cause a rapid decline in egg production, and a low feed conversion ratio in both layers and broilers. Birds become listless, eat little and consume great quantities of water, trying to keep cool. Continued high temperatures result in heat prostration or death.

Electric forced-air ventilation will keep production high all summer long and it is economical to operate. With only a minimum of building changes required, it is easy to install.

See your dealer now... and take the summer sag out of poultry profits with electric forced-air ventilation!

Vegetables Add Variety To Menu

Send up a little rocket for your own reputations as a hostess when you add a new dish to your Fourth of July meals this year. If you're entertaining indoors, or eating outdoors at a set down meal you couldn't find a more novel salad than the Firecracker Salad made with gelatine and banana. It's easy to do yet a real sensation in the department of original and amusing food for the Fourth.

For outdoor picnic meals try baking bananas in the peel over glowing coals for a delicious new accompaniment to your grilled steak hamburger, or what have you. There is absolutely no work to this novel picnic food, and yet it always makes a hit with the crowd. Cooking banana gives it an extra-mellow flavor that you'll find delicious.

BANANA FIRECRACKERS

1 package strawberry, cherry or raspberry gelatin
1 cup hot water
3/4 cup cold water
2 ripe bananas
4 (6 oz.) empty cans
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Stir in cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Place 1 tablespoon of gelatin in bottom of each can. Peel bananas. Cut crosswise in half. Place in center of each can. Fill cans with remaining gelatin. Chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold by dipping cans just to the rim in hot water for 1 or 2 seconds. Shake slightly to loosen gelatin. Cover with plate. Invert plate and can together, or carefully slide gelatin out on to plate. Lift off can. Serve with plain or whipped cream. Makes 4 servings.

BANANAS GRILLED

Take a banana that has all-yellow or slightly green - tipped peel. A less ripe banana stays firm during cooking. Make a lengthwise slit in peel, gently loosen edges, and drizzle in a little honey all along the slit. Now put the banana to grill on a grate over glowing coals. The peel will turn glossy black. The fruit inside will develop an extra-delicious, mellow flavor everyone will like. To eat the fruit just ull aside the peel and with a fork or spoon, eat the fruit inside.

Let's Go Fishin'

BY BUCK ROGERS

A fellow joined the gang at the local tackle store the other day and announced that he recently caught a nice bass.

"How big?" was the immediate question.

"Measured 44 inches," the angler said proudly.

Nobody said a word for several minutes, because we were trying to figure out how much a bass that long would weigh. The resulting interpolation was impossible. A bass that large just didn't exist.

So, our friend explained why he always used a tape measure instead of a pocket scale. "It offers much more room for imaginative calibration," he insisted. "For instance, I measured this bass up one side and down the other to get 44 inches. Or, I could have measured down and around, or measured down, multiplied by the square root of six and divided by two."

At first, we thought this fellow should be "put away," but the more I thought about it, the more I began to appreciate his theory.

Instead of fibbing about his catch like most anglers do, this lad simply used artistry in measuring it.

Follow his advice and you'll always catch "big" fish and have a clear conscience.

OUTBOARDS AND FISH

For many years outboard manufacturers have been claiming that their products don't frighten fish. And, their claims are generally correct.

This theory was proven in scientific tests in which anglers continued to fish while outboard motors churned by overhead. Additional light was thrown on the subject by underwater observers at Florida's clear Silver Springs. Here, fresh water fish didn't flush when an outboard went by, but frequently rose to nibble at the bubbles left in the propeller's wake.

To all intents and purposes, outboards didn't frighten fish. But, there are exceptions to every rule, so I checked with the Mercury outboard people for a straight answer. And, they gave me one — the first practical solution to a question that has been bothering anglers for years.

For the most part, they said that the sound waves created by an outboard prop do not frighten fish in deep or murky water. Under such conditions both fresh water and salt water gamesters may even be attracted to it. But, the Mercury outboard makers pointed out that fish in shallow water are a different situation. Bonefish or tarpon, feeding on shallow tropical flats, are a typical example. These fish will flush at the splash of a push pole or at the slight shadow of a flyline hovering over them. So, it stands to reason that an outboard will frighten them also.

Don't hesitate to use your outboard for fishing. Troll with it, and let it idle you along a shore or weed bed for casting. But, don't come tearing into a shallow bay and expect the fish not to know you're around. Throttle down, let your wake settle, and then commence fishing with your motor.

COLOR IN LURES

Most of the claims concerning the importance of color in lures is propaganda designed to sell 'em.

In reality, most fish are color blind. They see light and dark, and can distinguish between a few colors. But, they aren't as color conscious as we are.

Color is of little importance in surface lures since fish see only a shadowy shape. I prefer black most of the time, but sometimes a white lure works best on a bright day.

In underwater lures, color has more significance, but it has never been proven which hue fish prefer. So, as a general rule of thumb, stick to the natural colors of the baits you're using. They are supposed to imitate—white, silver, and yellow for minnows, and a dark color for crawfish, etc.

After all, who ever saw a pink and blue crawdad.

If you have any questions concerning fishing techniques, equipment, or where-to-go, write Buck Rogers in care of this paper.

When the Cats dropped the Owls 22-1 Monday night in Babe Ruth League action Chester Simons walked his third homerun of the season.

Not only is he leading in this department but has already passed all previous Babe Ruth League marks for the past two years.

Son of Police-Chief Chester Simons, he has earned the reputation of being the leagues best long ball hurler.

He started the year at catcher and is now alternating between receiving and hurling.

V O S

When school starts there will be two more coaches on the staff to take the place of Bill Kruger and Billy Joe Michalka.

Michalka, C team coach went to Devine Texas.

Kruger, twenty-three year old basketball coach accepted a position at San Marcos.

He was at the head of the round ballers for one full season where a good deal of improvement was shown in the teams progress and it is generally considered that one of the upcoming young coaches in central Texas was lost in him.

V O S

Babe Ruth League action was highlighted by Monday night's game in which the Cats romped over the Owls 22-1.

The Owls couldn't seem to do anything right as their pitching and fielding fell apart early in the game.

The Cats picked up 6 runs in the 2nd inning, 7 in the 3rd, 1 in the 4th, 4 in the 5th and 4 in the 6th.

Bob Dymke hurled until the last inning before Chester Simons took over. Simons homered for the 3rd time this year in the 6th with the bases loaded. Eugene Schattle knocked one out of the park in the 3rd also for the Cats.

The Owls used a total of 6 pitcher in an attempt to tame the Cats. Steve Malone started and took the loss. Jones followed him, then Cook, Mann, Provasek and Boyer.

Bears, Braves Win In Double Header

In Friday nights Little League games the Bears set back the Yankees 8-5 in the first game of a double header and the Braves took the Indians 13-0 in the second game.

Catcher Robert Woodum led the Bears past the Yanks going 3 for 3 and driving in 3 runs. McKinney took the credit for the win and had 2 hits to his credit.

The Bears had 2 in the 1st, 1 in the 2nd, 2 in the 3rd and 3 in the 6th.

The Yanks got in 1 in the 3rd, 1 in the 4th, 2 in the 5th, and 1 in Speedy Bowen. Nelson led the Yankees going 2 for 3.

Braves Duck Indians 13-0

The Braves scored 8 runs in a big 2nd inning to drown the Indians 13-0 in a shortened 3 inning contest.

The game was called 3 innings of play because one team was 10 runs ahead of the other after half the game was completed.

Lawrence Laffere took the win.

Laffere also homered in the first inning with 2 men on base to help his own cause.

Laffere allowed only one hit while the Braves racked up 9 hits.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones of Minerva and Mr. Alfred Massengale of Freeport spent Friday with their aunt, Mrs. H. W. Massengale.
